AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

"The Inside" of the S. P. and A., T. & S. F. Railroad Business.

That Sixteen Millions—Gould and Huntington Compromise—Steamboat Explosion—Lynched.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Your correspondent understands that the following came from "the inside": The statement heretofore published with reference to the agreement recently ratified by the Southern Pacific, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad companies in relation to the extension of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad have failed to impart any satisfactory information as to the nature and scope of the arrangements. The amount of subscription asked for the completion of the Atlantic and Pacific to San Francisco was sixteen millions. The purchase by Gould and Huntington of an interest in the St. Louis and San Francisco road interfered somewhat with the plan of extension agreed upon. The compromise agreement reduces the total agreement to $6,600,000—six million dollars for the western division from Albuquerque westward and six hundred thousand for the central division from Vinita to Albuquerque. It is understood that this amount is fixed upon under the original plan, and the official circulars regarding the Atlantic and Pacific says that one-third of the total is apportioned to the St. Louis and San Francisco Company, one-third to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and the other third to the financial agents, Seligman & Co. The agreement provides that this money is to be applied to building the road to the Colorado river. The agreement does not, singularly enough, fix the location in Arizona and California, but merely stipulates that it shall be upon the most direct line between the present end of the Atlantic and Pacific and Mohave on the Southern Pacific. Nor is the matter of future extensions definitely fixed, but the decision of that question is left until both the Atlantic and Pacific from the east and the Mohave branch of the Southern Pacific from the west are connected. White river is fixed on as the nominal point of junction. The agreement fails to stipulate that the approaching roads shall connect there, or that the Southern Pacific shall be extended to the river, but states that the Southern Pacific will build to the west bank of the river. The agreement defers the settlement of the inevitable question of interchange of traffic until some future date. Another singular provision of the agreement is that, if requested by the Atlantic and Pacific Company to do so, the Southern Pacific shall execute a guarantee of twenty-five per cent. on all the gross receipts from interchanged business of that company and its connections to and from California points and this. It is further provided that it is to be on precisely the same terms as apply to the traffic with the St. Louis and San Francisco and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Companies. It is also stipulated that the St. Louis and San Francisco Company is to give a similar guaranty on all traffic interchanged between it and the Central Division. This, after all, amounts only to a truce. There is nothing in the agreement about a San Francisco outlet for the Atlantic & Pacific, and nothing to prevent the latter Company if it should fail to secure satisfactory terms in the future settlements provided for, from extending its line from the Colorado river to San Francisco, or for that matter to the Pacific ocean at any other point.

Steamboat Explosion.

LA CROSSE, Wis., April 7.—Early this morning the boiler of the steamer Bella Mac exploded, with terrible loss of life, a few miles below this city. The explosion completely wrecked the upper works of the steamer. The crew consisted of seventeen men, including the officers. Of this number five are missing, one is dead, three are probably fatally injured, and the remainder are more or less hurt. The injured men were brought to this city and are being cared for. The Bella Mac is comparatively a new boat and was considered perfectly safe. The second engineer says that the boiler had plenty of water at the time and was carrying 135 pounds of steam.

The Peru-Chile Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—At the Peru-Chile inquiry Shipherd was before the Committee. He stated that company circulars were mainly sent to Senators. One was sent to Hewitt, of the House. He produced some letters from Minister Hurlbut which give him very little comfort regarding the pushing of his scheme.

Lynched for Rape.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 8.—A mob last night captured the steamer at Raymond City, went to Winfield, took Joseph Smith (negro) out of jail and hanged him to a tree. He had committed an outrage upon a woman who is reported as dying on account of the shock.

Market Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Barley—No. 1 feed, higher, at $1.50½.

Stocks.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Virginia, 65; Curry, 2½; Mexican, 6; Ophir, 3½; Union, 10; Nevada, 6; Eureka, 21½; Alpha, 45; Jacket, 1; Best, 5; Point, 50; Utah, 3½; Belle, 8½; Bullion, 20c; Bodie, 5½; Mono, 1½; Tiptop, 3½; King, 17.

What the Brooklyn "Vidette" Says.

The LOS ANGELES TIMES (daily) has made its appearance at the Vidette office. The TIMES is comparatively a new paper, having been in operation as a daily for only a little over three months, but it has not its superior, if equal, in Southern California. Messrs. Yarnell, Caystile & Mathes, its proprietors, are able and energetic newspaper men. Their weekly—the MIRROR—is also a very popular paper, and long has been in that portion of the State.

"I dunno a heap 'bout poultry," said old Uncle Pete when they were discussing the question of the day up at the market, "but de sweetest chicken I'se ever eat was drawn. It was drawn fro' de window ob a chicken house in de dark ob de moon.

Robbing an Aged Statesman.

BOSTON, April 6.—A remarkable discovery of an attempt to extort money from Charles Francis Adams and blackmail his family, has just come to light. The first intimation of the scheme was a warning received by Adams' clerk on Friday night that Adams' account at his bank had been withdrawn. This was considered very surprising, as it was known he had $18,000 to his credit there. An investigation was at once begun, and it was found that a check for $17,500, regularly indorsed and signed by Adams, but filled in by another hand, had been deposited in the Merchants' Bank some time previously, and in the due course of business come around to Adams' bank. To-day J. S. Morrison was arrested on the 10 o'clock train for New York. He made the statement that the check represented money that Adams had lost at gaming. The statement further shows that Adams, who is in feeble health, and whose memory is impaired, was considered a fit subject for "plucking" by this gang. He is said to be interested in a "bunko" game, and that it was believed that Adams would pay any sum to avoid the publication of the story. Adams was met by Morrison on the street, the latter assuming to be a relative and political friend, and was decoyed into a place on Boylston street, where a game was in progress. Adams was confused and did not seem to know what he was about, and the sharpers finally induced him to sign and indorse three checks, one for $17,500, one for $1,000 and one for $350. Morrison frankly said that he did not believe that Adams knew what he was doing, and, as he saw him after the swindle coming from his home without any apparent agitation, he supposed the game had succeeded and that Adams had concluded to allow the check to be paid.

SAN DIEGO DOTS.

[From the Exchanges.]

It is reasonably suspected that the Chinese wash-houses are greatly conducive to spreading contagious diseases by washing all the city clothing together.

We have information from interior portions of the county stating that heavy rains have been falling for several days. This will prove of inestimable benefit to the farming community.

The sub-irrigation system of Mr. Higgins' place, on the Sweetwater, has been completed, and is a decided success. It will result in a saving of $95 per month in the expense of irrigation, besides obtaining the desired effect more efficiently, and as compared with the old system, connected by hydrants, is far superior.

Every arrangement has been completed for the Odd Fellows' excursion on the 26th inst. The City Guard Band has been engaged for the occasion. Tickets for the round trip to Temecula Cañon and return, same day, are sold at two dollars; children, half price.

The Orizaba took out yesterday twenty-seven boxes of oranges from Mr. Higgins' place, and five from another shipper. So it will be seen that San Diego begins to come forward as a shipper of this fruit. We hope it will pass muster well.

Fred. Perris, who has been employed by the California Southern since the inception of the work, came in on Saturday, taking his first ride over the road. He was much gratified at the smoothness and solidity of the track, which was much greater than he expected from so new a piece of work.

On the first of the month, the track laying on the California Southern was still going ahead, and the operatives were some six to ten miles beyond Temecula canon. It was reported then that the road had iron for about six miles more, leaving a short gap between the work and Colton. Iron ships are momentarily expected.

There was shipped Sunday to San Francisco, by the Orizaba, two boxes containing a lot of as pretty peacocks as we have ever seen. They were raised by some one out on the railroad and came in on it, for the great city. Their gay and brilliant plumage looked splendidly.

COLTON CLIPPINGS.

[Semi-Tropic.]

Everything gives promise of a very large fruit crop this year, and preparations are being made by the cannery and fruit dryers to do an immense business.

It is said the managers of the California Southern Railroad have settled the right of way difficulties with opposing parties south of Colton, but we cannot vouch for the truth of the report.

Quite a number of carts and scrapers, picks, shovels, etc., used on the California Southern Railroad work, have been brought to Colton and stored for the time being, until needed again.

The giraffe is not a great eater. A little goes a long way with him.

EASTER SONG.

SARAH D. CLARK.

Triumphant as the angel at the tomb,
On the first Easter when the Lord arose,
Rise, joyous soul! put on thy spring-time bloom,
As on its stem the Easter lily blows.

Deep in the soul where flowering virtues shine,
Love, with its rose-red petals, brightest be;
While like a flame some radiant bud shall twine
With the soft tendrils of humility.

Sound forth the joyful news, glad Easter Bells!
Henceforth let every heart be comforted:
This joy on earth a future joy foretells—
Our Lord is risen, risen from the dead!

TWO LITTLE BIRDS.

Two little birds aye linger round my dwelling:
One called "I-have" is ever tame and cheery,
Amid the trees' green palaces still telling
A simple tale of which I would not weary.
Life is so happy when "I-have" its singing—
Sweeter than perfume, and as pure as praying,
And full of melodies, like those upspringing
From bands of children in the wild woods Maying.

Another bird, with many a brilliant feather,
Flits with a mocking splendor through my garden.
I hear him singing in all kinds of weather,
Sharp, wiry notes that chill and harden.
His name "O-had-I;" and where'er I heard him
Cold discontent and eager wishes seize me.
I chase him far and wide, yet ne'er come near him:
He lures me only to deceive and tease me.

Year after year this bird of sad temptation
Wins me and wearies me, awake or sleeping:
"O had I beauty! gold! or fame! or station!"—
Wild luring words that always leave me weeping.
O sweet "I-have," come thou and sing thy measure,
Thy little song of calm content so tender.
"O-had-I's" song may thrill with promised pleasure:
I never more will heed its mocking splendor.

COAST NEWS

The outlook for a heavy fruit crop was never more flattering in the vicinity of Fresno.

At Park City, U.T., two men, Ezekiel Durance and W. S. Wilson, quarreled about three dollars. Durance was killed.

Water has been struck in large quantities, and of superior excellence, at Sentinel Station, on the Southern Pacific Railroad.

The Star Oil Company are putting down four wells at Newhall. The three old wells in Tousley canyon still have oil oozing out.

A vigilance committee has been forming at Centerville, Umatilla county, Or., for the past two weeks, for the protection of life and property.

A vigilance committee has been forming in Centreville, Umatilla county, Oregon, for the past two weeks for the protection of life and property.

Klickitat county, W. T., has had but a single saloon within its borders, and that has just been closed. The authorities licensed it at $1,000 per annum, and the business could not stand it.

The termini of the west end of the San Antonio and Southern Pacific are now about 175 miles apart. This gap will be covered on or before next September, thus making a continuous line through to New Orleans.

The snow has almost entirely disappeared from the east and south sides of Mount Davidson. On the north side the snow is still piled up, the drifts in some places being from fifteen to twenty feet deep.

Virginia City, Nevada, is said to be full of tough characters, and a new Vigilance Committee may shortly become necessary. There are men in the place who can be hired to commit murder for a twenty-dollar piece.

Prescott was visited by a whirlwind last week which struck an old slaughter-house and hide-house adjoining, carrying them up into the air upwards of 200 feet, and depositing the fragments over several acres of ground.

Colonel Chiles, says the Napa Register, has received 100 pounds of catfish for breeding purposes. Fifty of them were put in the Napa river, and the remainder were divided between a pond near St. Helena and a lake in the lower end of Lake county.

The Marin County Water Company is giving notice to its San Rafael consumers that they must economize in the consumption of water. The indications are that the reservoir of Tamalpais will run very low before the season is over, and the company has not the funds to bring in a larger supply.

The Yosemite Valley Commission has decided to purchase the Glacier point trail and make it free to the traveling public. There are nearly five feet of snow in the valley, and the wind has played havoc among the trees in one spot just immediately under Glacier point. Large pines and cedars from two to four feet in diameter have been broken off like pipe-stems; others were uprooted.

Joseph Hooker, at one time an enlisted soldier stationed at Fort Yuma, and recently in the employ of the railroad company, committed suicide the other day by deliberately placing his head on the track in front of an incoming train. The wheel of the engine struck the top of his head, the body being scarcely mutilated. Insanity from hard drink is supposed to have caused the act.

About thirty of the schools of Tulare county have resumed after a protracted seige of the measels.

Three years ago there were seventy-five Chinamen and twenty-five white men employed at the Milton mine at French Corral, Nevada county. Now the entire force consists of white men. A similar revolution has been brought in all the large mining properties on the Ridge, through the anti-Chinese agitation, and the exertions of the local Miners' Union.

An old miner, John Lamey, during the severe snowstorm of last month, left his cabin at Fir Cap, on the top of the mountain about six miles above Downieville, to go to Howard Flat. The whole country roundabout was familiar to him, and the path was straight and not very long. Taking the wind, which blew northward toward his destination, as his compass, he followed in its course. But it blew variably and led him on a circuitous tramp over the mountains. He had an apple and a biscuit in his pocket, and dividing these into five portions, he prepared to spend as many days in the mountains. Sleeping at night beneath a heap of snow, into which he had burrowed, and groping his way as best he could through the blinding snow during the day time, he spent four days and nights. On the fifth day, exhausted and without food, he was about to sink down in despair, when he came upon a Chinese camp, where he received food and care. One of the Celestials piloted him safely to Downieville.

He was a Little Curious.

Comment is often made on the curiosity of people in the agricultural districts, but it is only right and proper that an honest farmer who is addressed by a perfect stranger would weigh the subject well before giving any valuable information. The other day the Detroiter who was engineering a horse and buggy over a muddy highway in the eastern part of this country, met a farmer and called out:

"Do you folks fly when you go to town?"

The farmer put down the rail he was lifting up, took a chew of shorts, and advancing nearer, he calmly inquired:

"Want to sell that hoss?"

"No."

"Want to buy a mate to him?"

"No."

"Want to trade that buggy for a wagon?"

"No."

"Buyin' butter to ship?"

"No."

"Speculatin' in taters any?"

"No."

"Traveled far to-day?"

"About ten miles."

"Going to the city to-night?"

"Yes, if I can get there. Now, then, do you folks out here along the line of this infernal river of mud fly when you go to town?"

The man looked around, heaved a sigh, and broke off a twig to pick his teeth before answering.

"Stranger, what kind of a flying machine are you peddling, and what are your very lowest figures for cash?"—Detroit Post.

Poisonous Pencil Leads.

A case of what seemed like a very narrow escape from serious consequences resulting from taking a small piece of the lead used in automatic pencils into the mouth came under observation at Schnectady, N. Y., recently. A gentleman, a tobacco-chewer, and who sometimes carries a small quantity of the weed in his vest pocket, took a chew and immediately discovered a peculiar taste and noticed that his saliva was much discolored. He immediately rinsed his mouth, but did not succeed in removing the discoloration. This occurred about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. He went home to tea, and with the first food he attempted to swallow, was taken with retching and vomiting, and this continued without intermission until about 9 o'clock. That the bit of lead taken into his mouth caused this there can hardly be a doubt. What would have been the result if he had swallowed it can only be conjectured.

A Texas Yarn.

A young man who was ploughing with a pair of mules near Gonzales, Texas, not long ago, observed in the morning that the off mule was suffering from a swollen jaw. On the principle that mules have no rights which their owners are bound to respect, he paid no further attention to the matter until evening, when he noticed that the near mule was drawing away as far as possible from his mate. A closer inspection revealed the head of a rattlesnake sticking out from the straw collar of the afflicted beast, in which snug quarters it had probably passed the winter.—Washington Republican.

"Why do you suppose Rev. Johnson Reed is always driving over to Smithville," asked one Austin gentleman of another. "His wife says he goes over to admire the beauty of the place,' was the reply. "Yes, but does his wife know that the beauty of the place is a young widow."

Written for the TIMES.

A FLOWER IN THE PATH.

I was walking the street all alone one day,
With a heart full of sadness and gloom,
The birds in the trees were singing most gay,
All around there were flowers in bloom,
Yes I was so sad,
At misfortunes I'd had,
As a criminal being led to his doom.

Some children were playing in a yard close by,
'Neath the shade of a large friendly pine,
And as I was passing I heard a glad cry,
A voice sweet, and exquisitely fine,
'Twas a child whom I knew,
Her little feet flew,
And her hand was soon resting in mine.

Her sweet, happy and sunshiny face,
And her prattling, soon altered my mood,
Then I thought that no matter how sad is our case,
With the evil, there is always some good,
Some beautiful flower,
Almost every hour
We may pluck, if, only we would. S.

An article for your paper, you ask,
And indeed, sir! 'tis a very hard task
To write something new,
And likewise true,
But if I must,
I will haste to dust
The cobwebs from my brain,
And try my best
To spoil the rest.
"KAREN."

EASTER SUNDAY.

To-day is Easter Sunday, and the most interesting of the many church festivals, because it celebrates the rising from the dead of the atoning Son of God, an event the occurrence of which was a necessity to establish his claim to a Godship. Therefore it is that the millions of the believers in Christ throughout the whole world make special note of the day, and with decorations and unusual exercises show their joy and their faith. And they may do these things with propriety, for without the resurrection the day celebrates there would be little to strengthen a belief in Christianity. A resurrection well proven or admitted, and the heart believes that "as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive," and is prepared to join reverently and heartily in the glad songs which makes the day vocal with Christian melody:—

"Christ the Lord has risen to-day,
Sons of men and angels say;
Raise your joys and triumphs high,
Sing, ye heavens, and earth reply.

"Love's redeeming work is done,
Fought the fight, the victory won:
Jesus' agony is o'er,
Darkness veils the earth no more."

According to the lexicographers the term Easter is from the Teutonic goddess of Spring, Ostera or Eostre. It agrees also with the German Ostern, or old Saxon oster, signifying rising. The French call it Paques, the Scotch Pasch, the Danes Paaske, and the Swedes Pask. St. Paul calls Christ "our Pasch."

Referring to history we find much of interest concerning the controversies among early Christians, originating from a diversity of opinion as to the proper day to be observed in commemoration of the resurrection. Many Christians believing Christ was slain on the day of the Jewish passover, adhered to the custom of holding the Easter festivity on the day prescribed for the Jewish passover, on the 14th day of the first month, that is to say, the lunar month of which the 14th day either falls on or next follows the day of the vernal equinox. The great majority of Christian churches, attaching most importance to the day of Christ's resurrection, which was the first day of the week, from whence comes our Sunday, held to Easter's being celebrated on that day, and on the Sunday which followed the 14th day of the moon of March, the day on which Christ suffered. This question eventually gave so much trouble, that special councils were held in Rome, Gaul, Pontus, Osroene, Achaia, and other countries resulting in fixing the feast of Easter, or the resurrection, on the Sunday immediately following the 14th day of the March moon. Some refused to accede, and were excommunicated by the Council of Rome. A truce was declared, and the factions agreed not to disfellowship each other, notwithstanding the disagreement. Finally, in A. D. 325, Constantine brought the whole matter before the Council of Nice. After full discussion a complete disposition was made of the long vexed question, and the festival day was fixed upon the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after March 21; and if the full moon happen on a Saturday, Easter Sunday is the Sunday after. By this arrangement Easter may come as early as March 22 or as late as April 25. This year the first full moon after the 21st March was on the 3d inst., and to-day, the first following Sunday, is Easter.

This sacred festival is not much observed of late excepting among the Roman Catholics, the Greek and the Episcopal churches. Formerly it was considered the queen of festivals, and was celebrated with great solemnity and devotion, with illuminations and decorations. In the olden time it was the custom for Christians to salute each other on Easter evening with a kiss and followed by the words: "Christ is risen," and the response was: "He is arisen, indeed." And history says this custom is still retained in the Greek Church. Another and well-known custom is that of making presents of colored eggs, called "pasch" or pace eggs, which are often elaborately ornamented. In some parts of Ireland there is, or was, a legend that the sun danced in the sky on Easter Sunday morning. The game of ball was once a favorite Easter sport in England. And it is said that to this time, in the northern counties of England, the men parade the streets on Easter Sunday, and claim the privilege of lifting every woman three times from the ground, receiving in payment a kiss or a silver sixpence. Our moderns have few amusements to introduce on this morning, and there will be nothing beyond the ordinary religious exercises, with some trifling additions to the usual routine, to celebrate an event that has been the cause at once of more speculation, contention and turmoil, and of joyful hope and gratification, than any other question that mankind have had to deal with. We commend to the reader a thoughtful consideration of the circumstances and the Christ in the commemoration of which and whom the day is celebrated.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

To get rid of rats, fill their holes with chloride of lime and oxalic acid, when a violent disengagement of chlorine takes place, and their holes are filled with gas and they are suffocated.

New York is importing potatoes at the rate of 3,000 tons per week. Cabbages are also among the imports from Germany. To offset this, New York is exporting hay to Europe.

H. S. Thoraberry, of Winona, Minn., has invented a new telephone receiver, which is said to be good, but it is not clear that it is enough unlike that of Bell's to win for itself a position before the public.

Those who feel aggrieved at Lenten fastings may solace themselves with Sydney Smith's reflection: "According to my computation, I have eaten and drunk between my tenth and seventieth year forty-four horse wagon loads more than was good for me."

There are in Boston 8,500 ladies who hold property valued at $75,000,000, and upon which they pay an annual tax of more than $1,000,000. Their forefathers pleaded eloquently and fought bravely against a system of taxation without representation, which now afflicts the lady millionares of the Old Bay State.

The Legophone is the name of a new musical instrument just invented in Spain. It is in the shape of a triangle, and consists of forty-five small rods of white poplar wood, lying each one on six short straws standing on a plank. The musician strikes these rods with two sticks, as if they composed the keyboard of a piano, and plays with ease and accuracy the most difficult music.

An Ohio teacher is out on the printers of school books. He says: "We are using four readers of a series costing to print respectively five, eleven, sixteen and twenty cents, but they are furnished to pupils at profits respectively of 400 per cent., 318 per cent., 368½ per cent. and 525 per cent. He well says it is time somebody entered a protest against this outrageous price for school books.

Dr. Staples, in a report to the Minnesota Board of Health, claims that diphtheria is both contagious and infectious, and asserts it is on the increase, owing to the failure of physicians in recognizing its self-propagating properties and frequent intercourse of convalescents with healthy persons. He urges as a safeguard against the disease, a complete clearing of filth deposits and cess-pools; in case of death all clothing should be burned, and there should be no public funerals. He prefers chlorine gas for a disinfectant.

An Eastern contemporary thus beautifully speaks of Longfellow: "He was old, but still his sweet song was heard with all the familiar music and the inexpressible charm. Age touched his silvering head, but not his heart nor his mind. His place among us in our busy life was that of the bard in the fond old golden legends that he loved, the honored and cherished singer whose hand the youth and the maiden kiss, and in whose lofty and tender melody the older men and women hear once more the accents of their early aspirations, and own a consolation for long-baffled hopes."

Pouring oil on troubled waters was long ago practiced, or at least talked of. Now it is being done on a large scale, and the only thing in the way of smoothing the entire wrinkled front of old ocean is the want of oil enough. At Peterhead, near Perth, England, March 1—on which occasion a pipe was run out into the sea—the waves were white-crested and rising to a height of ten feet. A pump was put in motion and the oil injected on the bottom of the ocean, and rising to the surface, the white foam entirely disappeared, and although the swell continued, the surface of the sea was perfectly smooth so that a ship or small boat could have entered the dock without the slightest danger—an impossibility before the oil was distributed in the water.

Queen Victoria received many congratulations on her recent escape from the bullet of an assassin, but none that touched her heart more than a letter from a little child, as follows:

"67 BENNERLEY ROAD,
WANDSWORTH COMMON, S. W.

"MY DEAR QUEEN—My papa has just come home, and said that some bad man has tried to shoot you. What a wicked man he must be to want to shoot such a good Queen! I hope he will be punished for it. Papa says he must be mad, and I think he must be the maddest man that ever lived. I am so glad that you have not been hurt, and so is papa and mamma. Good night, and may God bless you!

EDITH E. ELLIOTT.

March 3, 1882.

Her Majesty gave command to Captain Edwards to thank the little girl for her, and to express her gratification upon reading the letter.

A Miss Kingsford, M. D., has issued a book on diet, in which she argues for the more general use of vegetables as articles of food. She quotes Pouchet, who says that all the details of man's digestive apparatus, as well as his dentition, are proofs of his frugiverous (fruit-eating) origin. She combats the belief that flesh food contains more elements of physical force, and refers to the rhinoceros, the horse, the mule and the camel in defense of her theory that herb-eating animals are the strongest. Referring to the ancients she says: "In the palmy days of Greece and Rome, before intemperance and licentious living had robbed those kingdoms of their glory and greatness, their sons, who were not only soldiers but heroes, subsisted on simple vegetable food, rye meal, fruits and milk. The daily rations of the Roman soldier were one pound on barley, three ounces of oil, and a pint of thin wine. It was no regimen of flesh that inspired the magnificent courage of the Spartan patriots who defend the defiles of Thermopylæ, or that filled with indomitable valor and enthusiasm the conquerors of Salamis and Marathon." Many physicians agree with the lady M. D., in part at least, and nearly all agree that it would be well if flesh food were eaten in much less quantities than at present.

THE Pacific Rural Press has long since made itself indispensable to the farmers and horticulturists of the Pacific coast, but not content with past achievements, it continues to improve and embraces every opportunity for procuring information, facts and figures for its readers. The current number, of date April 8th, is a most excellent one, all its various departments being filled with interesting and useful matter, with full reports of the citrus fairs of National City and Riverside. A number of the addresses delivered at the latter fair are also reproduced, with minutia gleaned by Mr. Dewey, the editor, who was present, and this, with the well selected miscellany, completes a paper second to none of its class.

THE crops throughout the State are highly satisfactory and unexpectedly large. California will doubtless make as rapid strides forward this year as any State in the Union, and with a large and very desirable class of immigrants pouring into her magnificent valleys, Los Angeles county may well feel jubilant at the outlook.

THE committee having in charge the building of the Home for Veteran Soldiers are now engaged in selecting a location for the Home. A tract of from one hundred and fifty to five hundred acres is wanted.

FRANK JAMES is thought to be in the vicinity of St. Joseph, Missouri, and the parties who have been instrumental in the death of his brother Jesse had better keep shady.

THE Stockton Herald is authority for the statement that Gen. George S. Evans has withdrawn from the gubernatorial race.

ALL rumors that life-long Republicans of this city are going to repudiate their party is fustian and stuff.

PROF. H. S. PERKINS will conduct a Musical Convention at Santa Rosa, commencing Tuesday, April 11th.

A JURY has been impaneled in the ship Gatherer's case at San Francisco for cruelty to seamen.

Almost a Blaze.

Last evening as one of the cash boys at the People's Store was lighting a gas jet, some of the contiguous drapery caught fire, and for a minute or two it seemed as if there would be a big blaze, but through the prompt and energetic efforts of M. A. Hamburger, one of the proprietors, and Wm. Cline, one of the clerks, the flames were speedily extinguished. Mr. Hamburger escaped with a finger slightly burned, but Mr. Cline was not so fortunate, his right hand being severely burned.

A Scrimmage.

Friday afternoon while the Police Commissioners were in session investigating the charges preferred by Mrs. Georgia Bell against Adolph Celis and other policemen, words passed between Major Bell and Assistant City Attorney Gage, and before bystanders could interfere blows had been given. Officer Cuddy was present and prevented any further contest.

They are Coming.

A prominent citizen of this city informed a TIMES reporter yesterday that a mammoth wholesale house, with water elevatory will be built in this city within the next three months, and that it is merely the commencement of a number of first-class buildings adapted for the wholesale trade which this city is destined to have in the near future.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

The White River Utes Return to Their Reservation.

More Particulars of the Michigan Tornado—Silver King's Dividend—A Small Boat on the Rocks.

Stealing a March on the Indians.

LARAMIE, April 8.—Samuel H. Foreman, an Indian trader at Oury Agency, just in from the Ute country, says that the White River Utes have all gone peaceably to their agency at Uintah. Jack was absent from his people at the time it is claimed, securing aid for an outbreak in the spring. His people had promised him they would not leave before he returned, but they were prevailed upon by Mayor Bryant to go in accordance with their promise of last fall, and there is not an Indian now in the vicinity. Foreman says this shuts off all chance for an Indian outbreak in the spring, unless there is a union of the White River and Southern Utes, or the union of either with disaffected Mormons against the Gentile whites. Advices received this evening at the Boomerang office from Meeker, Colorado, confirms Foreman's statements.

Particulars of the Tornado.

KALAMAZOO, April 8.—Additional particulars of the cyclone show that the devastation was greater than was at first supposed. Houses were unroofed and in a number of places torn to pieces. One had the timbers of his barn driven through his house. In another case the front of the house was torn off Isaac Simmons' house was torn to pieces and he fatally injured by falling timbers. A swath twelve to forty rods wide was mowed across the north of the county, timber and everything being destroyed. The storm seems to have originated near the west edge of this county and moved northeast across this into Barry and Eaton counties in the former and from Charlotte and Kalamazoo townships. In the latter devastation and death are reported.

Assessment—Severe Weather.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—The Silver King declares a dividend of twenty-five cents.

A Victoria dispatch says there was a violent gale yesterday and to-day. Two ships anchored in the outer harbor are in a perilous position. A boat with six men, belonging to the ship Silas W. Curtis, left the wharf for the ship last night. This morning the boat was found smashed on the rocks and the body of one of the occupants entangled in the kelp near by. All are supposed to be lost.

Eastern wires down. No more overland to-night.

Easter Decorations.

Our reporter was more than pleased with the tasteful decorations of the Episcopal Church, at which he took a look last evening. The floral display about the altar is supremely beautful, and reflects much credit upon the ladies whose judgment and good sense planned and executed the work. The ladies of the Fort street Methodist Society were also at work with evergreens and flowers, but had not developed enough showing to enable us to report progress. But we warrant church-goers to that sanctuary will be pleased with the result this morning.

Funeral.

The funeral services for the late Mrs. Dr. French was held at the Methodist Church at 1 P. M. yesterday. The attendance of friends was very large. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Chase, assisted by Rev Mr. Hough and Rev. Mr. Bovard.

THE WEEK AT SANTA ANA.

[Herald, 8th.]

John Lowe has moved into his new quarters on Sycamore street.

Mr. D. C. Haywood, of Orange, will ship a thousand boxes of lemons this season.

We saw some fine, large oranges at the depot Thursday being shipped by Dr. Wall, of Tustin.

Mr. Cook gives the last rainfall at 75-100ths, and the total for the season 10 75-100th inches.

We hear that Mr. Jacob Loew, of Downey, has abandoned, for the present, the project of building a warehouse here.

The extensive tract of land adjoining town, recently purchased by a company from Mrs. Ross and her daughter, is rapidly being planted with trees and vines.

We understand that Mr. Noah Palmer thinks of extending Sycamore street through his fine place, and laying off lots for sale. The extension of the street, would make a fine improvement.

Mr. C. E. French, our postmaster, has put up about forty additional boxes for the use of the public. The postoffice building is the private property of Mr. French; the Government pays him no rent.

Mr. Robert Eccles, of the Santa Ana Packing House, Westminster, informs us that he has closed the slaughtering business for the season. His products have been in such demand that he fears he will not be able to supply it.

Mr. Hewes, principal of our public school, who was arrested charged with having beaten a pupil, had a jury in Judge Freeman's court last Saturday, and was acquitted, the jury finding no foundation for the charge. It has been erroneously reported that Mr. Hewes was convicted.

A petition has been forwarded to the Postoffice Department at Wasnington asking the establishment of a postoffice in the Swamp, and it will doubtless be granted. There is a large and increasing population in that region, and they ought to have a postoffice of their own. The petition requests the appointment of Mr. D. T. Stacy as postmaster, the office to be kept in his store.

DOWNEY DOINGS.

[Signal.]

Quite a number of our farmers have commenced planting corn.

Three thousand and thirty dozen eggs were shipped this week.

Three thousand gallons of castor oil were shipped from Downey this week.

Seventy-two dozen chickens were expressed from this place during last month.

There were 316 cases of oranges shipped from the depot by Jenison & Greening within the past two weeks.

Samuel Hunting has sold his farm near Downey to Jennison & Greening for $6,000. Mr. Hunting, we learn, intends to move to Shasta county.

Parties are now busy at work setting out trees and shrubbery on the grounds around the Christian church, and making other necessary improvements.

A. S. Gray killed a wildcat on Old River this week that measured forty-two inches in length. This is the fourth one he has massacred in the last three months.

On the 26th instant there will be held at the grove near the depot at Downey City, a basket picnic under the auspices of Nietos Lodge, No. 197, I. O. O. F., to celebrate the 63d anniversary of Odd Fellowship.

David Stanley had quite a painful accident one day last week, when attempting to mount a horse, was thrown behind the saddle and the horse became frightened and bucked him off, breaking one of his fingers above the third joint, also dislocating it.

ANAHEIM ITEMS.

[Gazette.]

Wednesday, April 26th, is the 63d anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship into the United States, and our two lodges propose giving a grand invitation social and ball on the evening of that date, at Kroeger's Hall. Great preparations will be made and no pains or expense spared to make this the most enjoyable affair of the season.

There is an active demand for houses to rent. If any of our citizens possessed of surplus means would erect a few neat and convenient cottages to rent, they could readily find tenants. Several families were in town during the past two weeks with the intention of purchasing land in this vicinity and settling, and all the desirable houses have been rented. Only a few buildings remain vacant, and those are not desirable for the accommodation of a family.

THE LOS ANGELES POSTOFFICE.

Quarterly Report—Increase of Clerk Hire.

Postmaster Dunkelberger reports the gross income of the Los Angeles postoffice for the first quarter of 1882 as $7,254.80. Deducting expenses, $1,722.80, there remains $518 in excess of any previous quarter. The clerk hire has also been increased to the extent of $1,000 per year, which will materially assist in providing help adequate to the demands upon the office. Owing to the fact that there is so large a transient custom here, by reason of the immense immigration hitherward, and also the fact that there are so many visitors who stop here but a short time and then must have their mail forwarded to other places, there is a great deal of extra work which cannot be shown in the reports. With this appropriation, however, the Postmaster will be enabled to procure additional help and the public will feel the effect in being better served.

An Opera House Wanted.

The negotiations for the purchase of the Nadeau property, on the corner of Spring and First streets, have evidently fallen through, a grand opportunity thus being lost of securing an imposing and commodious building, combining a theater and hotel. Los Angeles is sadly deficient in first-class public halls, and there should be a movement agitated without delay whereby an Opera House commensurate with the inevitable growth of the city can be built in some desirable location. The northeast or southeast corners of Spring and First streets are both admirable locations, and a spacious block of stores on the ground floor, with a commodious and elegant Opera House above would doubtless realize handsomely on the investment.

Received into the Church.

There were fourteen persons received into the Presbyterian church last Sunday. They were Mr. and Mrs. J. Forbes, of Sunny Dale, Kansas; Mrs. Ellen Godfrey, of Girard, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ryan, Liberty, Indiana; Mrs. Elizabeth McKinley, Sacramento, Cal.; Mrs. S. McNelly, Santa Barbara; Mrs. A. E. Throop, Chicago, Ill.; J. T. Richardson, Maud E. Bell, Gracie Cochrane, Guy Cochrane, Alexander Tuthill, and Gardner Tuthill, Los Angeles.

There are Telegrams

At the Western Union Telegraph Office for Kruz Lopez, Miss Nellie St. Clair, Alvin S. Young, Theo. Neely, Reed & Hill.

By Universal Accord,

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use, and being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other pills can be compared with them; and every person, knowing their virtues, will employ them when needed. They keep the system in perfect order and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild searching and effectual, they are especially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild but effectual cathartic is required.
